

The Perfect Game Collegiate Baseball League (PGCBL), upstate New York's premier summer wood bat league, played its sixth season in 2016. Every year since its inception in 2011, the PGCBL has sent players to the pros and has seen an increase in the amount of alumni selected in the MLB Draft with each passing year. Here is a list of former PGCBL players that are currently in professional baseball, listed by their current level.

MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL

Name	PGCBL Team (Year)	MLB Team
Hunter Pence	Schenectady Mohawks* (2002)	San Francisco Giants
Shae Simmons	Watertown Wizards (2010)	Seattle Mariners
J.D. Martinez	Saratoga Phillies+ (2009)	Detroit Tigers

James Hoyt	Little Falls Miners^ (2008)	Houston Astros
Nick Pivetta	Glens Falls Golden Eagles# (2012)	Philadelphia Phillies
Mark Leiter Jr.	Amsterdam Mohawks (2011-12)	Philadelphia Phillies

Luke Maile was the first player from the PGCBL era to reach the major leagues. The former Amsterdam Mohawk, who played for the club in 2010 and 2011, was originally drafted by Tampa Bay in the eighth round of the 2012 draft out of Kentucky and made his MLB debut with the Rays on September 1, 2015. The catcher was claimed off of waivers by the Toronto Blue Jays in April of 2017.

A three-time All-Star and two-time World Series Champion, Hunter Pence has become a mainstay in the outfield for the San Francisco Giants since being traded by the Phillies in 2012. A veteran of 11 seasons in the majors, Pence spent 2002 in Schenectady, New York, former home of the Amsterdam Mohawks, where he batted .316 with 36 hits, 13 RBIs and 13 runs scored in 30 games for the regular-season champions.
